

You haven't experienced Canada until you visit Atlantic Canada

The region is the closest North American destination to Europe. In fact, you can be at the St. John's International Airport in Newfoundland & Labrador in just five hours, or the Halifax Stanfield International Airport in Nova Scotia in six hours. Further connections are available to regional airports including Moncton, Fredericton, and Saint John in New Brunswick, as well as Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and Deer Lake, Newfoundland & Labrador. Following is an overview of the flights on offer to Atlantic Canada to help you plan your next seaside holiday.

UK and Ireland to Halifax, Nova Scotia:

- Air Canada from London Heathrow – year-round service
- WestJet from Glasgow – May to October
- ASL Airlines from Paris/Dublin – July to October

UK and Ireland to St. John's, NL:

- Air Canada from London Heathrow – year-round service
- WestJet from London Gatwick – May to October
- WestJet from Dublin – May to October

Atlantic Canada

New Brunswick • Prince Edward Island
Newfoundland & Labrador • Nova Scotia

AtlanticCanadaHoliday.co.uk

explorez sans fin
Canada
keep exploring